

Dermalogica has evolved its education programme and is now bringing the classroom to you.

Using state-of-the-art technology, exclusive workshops will be streamed live from our head office, making it possible for Dermalogica professionals to gain exceptional knowledge and skills from the comfort of their treatment centre.

With d-streaming, accessing Dermalogica's award winning post graduate education has never been easier or more convenient for businesses facing travel challenges. Students attending an online workshop will be able to interact with the instructor for an authentic classroom experience. Real-time, hands-on training will also be offered, allowing students to learn new techniques and procedures which they can perform in their own treatment room.

Attached you will find your d-stream calendar with the workshops that are currently available.

How do I book?

It's easy, look at the dates and time available, select the sessions you would like to attend then call 09 414 0200 or email education@dermalogica.co.nz. Closer to the workshop time all information on how to join this workshop and requirements will be emailed to you for reviewing and downloading.

What do I need?

A good internet connection | PC, tablet or smart phone | Headset or speakers & microphone | Webcam | Power supply or charger. Some workshops may require product, a model and the ability to do guided practical.

How do I join?

Use the link in the meeting request to join the session 10 minutes before the workshop starts to test your connection and troubleshoot.
